

Call for candidates for a full-time post-doctoral researcher for the project:
Greek aristocratic culture (8th-5th centuries B.C.): the life-styles and the systems of values,
run by Dr Habil. Marek Węcowski

Project-related remuneration period:

36 months

Total salary cost on grant (PLN)

210 000 (or ca. 5800 PLN per month) (gross)

Responsibilities / duties

- Position: full-time position, post-doc type;
- Scope of work within individual project tasks:
- Studying the attitudes and the forms of activity of the archaic Greek aristocracy as regards the forms of public rivalry (e.g. athletic competitions, public agones, and warfare) and their supra-local mutual relations (e.g. rituals of friendship and hospitality, aristocratic marriages);
- Studying the systems of values of the archaic Greek aristocracy as regards the aristocratic morals, the ideals of friendship and mutual loyalty;
- Studying the systems of values of the archaic Greek aristocracy as regards the aristocratic paideia as an educational ideal;
- Writing articles and chapters on these issues, representing project at workshops and conferences;
- The website administrator and the IT support of the project;
- Coordinating workshops, guest lectures, travels and purchases of books and equipment.

I. Requirements

Essential:

- Ph.D. in ancient history, archaeology or classics;
- Education and/or publication record in Greek social and/or political history;
- Excellent knowledge of Greek and Latin;
- Excellent knowledge of English;
- An effective working knowledge of at least two of the following languages: French, Italian, German, or Spanish;
- Excellent communication skills, including the ability to write for publication (to a deadline), present research proposals and results, and to represent the University of Warsaw and the project at scholarly meetings;
- Ability and willingness to work as part of a team, share insights and findings and write to a deadline.

Desirable:

- Documented experience or publication record in the history of archaic Greece;
- Experience in organizing and/or coordinating scholarly events;
- Basic IT and web-site maintenance competences.

II. How to apply

Closing date: 30 June 2017.

The preselected candidates will be interviewed on 10-14 July 2017 (possibly, although not necessarily, via Skype).

The final choice of the candidates will comply with the rules of the National Science Center (NCN).

III. Application dossier:

1. A cover letter addressed to the Rector of the University of Warsaw, and written declaration allowing the publication at the Institute of History webpage of documents mentioned under n. 3 (below).
2. Copy of the Ph.D. diploma
3. CV containing description of the academic curriculum, research interests and achievements (publication record, conference papers, participation in research projects etc.) and (preferably) languages certificates;
4. Motivation letter
5. Copy of the doctoral thesis and copies of selected scholarly texts (published or forthcoming)
6. A letter of recommendation to be sent directly to: m.wecowski@uw.edu.pl
7. An administrative questionnaire ("kwestionariusz osobowy") to be found at the University of Warsaw Website

The dossier shall be sent as hard copy or e-mail attachment to the Institute of History,
University of Warsaw
Krakowskie Przedmieście 26/28
00-927 Warszawa, Poland
e-mail: Dr Marek Węcowski: m.wecowski@uw.edu.pl

For further information please contact Dr Marek Węcowski: m.wecowski@uw.edu.pl